

THE BRECKENRIDGE NEWS.

ALL THE NEWS THAT'S FIT TO PRINT.

VOL. XXXII.

CLOVERPORT, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 18, 1907.

8 Pages

NO. 10

TAR SPRINGS A WEDDING GIFT.

Mrs. Lillian C. Parker Marries an Artist From Denmark.

Nemesis Nielsen and Mrs. Lillian C. Parker were united in marriage in Louisville yesterday. The ceremony was quietly solemnized in a private parlor at the Club House at 9:30 o'clock. Saturday Mr. and Mrs. Nielsen came from Louisville and went immediately to the summer resort, Tar Springs, which was given to the bride as a wedding present from her father, Mr. W. T. Halliday.

Mrs. Nielsen is a delightful woman, and has made a number of friends in this city since she has been living at Tar Springs. She is largely responsible for the church and Sunday-school being organized at the resort, and she has a beautiful influence in her social and church circles.

Mr. Nielsen is formerly from Denmark, having come to make his home in Chicago where he met his bride two years ago. He is an artist and has had charge of the decorating of Macauley's theater, in Louisville, this past summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Nielsen will make their home at the springs, and spend part of the coming winter at the Cloverport Hotel.

DeWitt's Little Harry Rivers are good for any one needs a pill. They are small, safe, sure, little pills that do no gripe or sticken. Sold by all druggists.

Little Folks Entertained.

Forrest Dryden Weatherholt celebrated his sixth birthday by entertaining his little friends. He received a number of nice remembrances from those present, who were: James Skillman, West Miller, T. J. Lewis, Louis Lewis, Lillian Miller, Raphael Lewis, Isabelle Burns, Mary Christina Hammen, Henry May and Cecil Simmons, Bernice and Leila Tucker, Martha, Emily and Eleanor Reid, Billy Reid, Louis Weatherholt, Moma and Vera Moorman, Cleto and Earl Wilson, Michael McCracken, W. W. and Zelma May Seaton, Rosa and Zelma McPhee, Mary Pate, Mildred Stith, Lillian Volk and Andrew Nevitt.

Mrs. Frymire Entertains.

Frymire, Sept. 16.—Mrs. Dr. Frymire was home to an afternoon party Saturday. The affair was given in celebration of the daughter of Miss Vandaele's twentieth birthday. The guests included Misses A. Bell, Head, and Ruth Grant and Lizzie A. Head, of Edensburg; Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Mercer, Will Avitt, Misses Sallie Avitt, Velma Turner, Blanche Hall, Raymond; Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Bruner, Misses Caroline and Lena Brashears and Katie Barr, Fessart, Lambert Vessels, Herbert, George and Lonnie Barr, Rhodella, and Dugan Severs and Bradford Bear. All report a delightful evening.

Returns to the Golden State.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Grant and baby, Hubey Keys, who have been spending the summer with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Grant, at Lodging, left Tuesday for college. The guests included Misses A. Bell, Head, and Ruth Grant and Lizzie A. Head, of Edensburg; Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Mercer, Will Avitt, Misses Sallie Avitt, Velma Turner, Blanche Hall, Raymond; Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Bruner, Misses Caroline and Lena Brashears and Katie Barr, Fessart, Lambert Vessels, Herbert, George and Lonnie Barr, Rhodella, and Dugan Severs and Bradford Bear. All report a delightful evening.

Stork Brings Three Girls.

The stork was very liberal in Cloverport Saturday night, having visited three homes and leaving in each one a sweet baby girl. The happy parents are Mr. and Mrs. Jim Bohler, Mr. and Mrs. Peyton Scott and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Waggoner.

Miss Eula Hensley

To Study Another Year.

The Breckenridge Baptist Association raised $200 to pay tuition in the Woman's Training School at Louisville. Miss Eula Hensley, of Hardinsburg, who is studying to go as a Missionary China.

Improvements on West End Residence.

A southern porch is being built to the side of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kramer's house in the West End. The porch will extend along the front of the house, and will add greatly to the beauty of the place.

HOME WEDDING THIS AFTERNOON.

Miss Verna Ryan to Marry Mr. Frank Sanders—Popular Young People.

This afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, Miss Verna Ryan will become the bride of Mr. Frank Sanders, the wedding taking place at the bride's home at Tobishon, Ind. There will be present members of the immediate families and a few friends of the contracting parties.

After the ceremony the bridal couple will leave for Cincinnati and from there will go to several other places of interest.

Miss Ryan is the daughter of Mr. Kirk Ryan, and is a beautiful young girl. She is very popular and has many ardent admirers here and elsewhere.

Mr. Sanders is the son of N. B. Sanders of New Albany, and is a prominent school teacher of Indiana.

Mr. Sanders is a nephew of Mr. Robt. Polk, and Miss Ryan has relatives in this city.

Slender Retracted by Rev. Hunt.

"To the Public:
It is because I wish to wrong no man that this statement is made. On two occasions recently in addressing myself to the temperance question, I have given publicly the report that the liquor interests of Kentucky were willing to put up a campaign fund of $100,000 in order to secure the election of A. E. Willson, the Republican candidate for Governor.

"My words as to this league between Mr. Willson and the liquor interests were entirely what appeared to be high authority.

"Since making the remarks above referred to, I have been thoroughly convinced that the story has no foundation in fact, and so I not only withdraw my words, but express my profound regret that I should have been led by what I thought good authority, to the giving of currency to a false story.

M. P. HUNT."

Misses May Return Home.

Misses Eva and Eliza May returned home Sunday night from a delightful visit to Mr. and Mrs. Walter May, Jr., at Detroit, Mich. Besides visiting Detroit, they went with Mr. and Mrs. May to Canada, Niagara Falls, New York, Jamestown and Washington, D. C. Miss Eva May has won the third prize in the Herald contest which was a trip including all the points she made on her visit. Instead of repeating the trip, Miss May has decided to take the prize in money. She received the greatest number of votes in the Nineteenth district.

Killed by a Train.

Information has been received here that Bayonne Roberts was killed by train No. 114, on the L. H. & St. L. railway Monday afternoon near Fallon. Roberts had fallen asleep on the track and the approaching train did not awaken him. The curve of the roadbed was so great that it was impossible for the engineer to have seen the body lying on the track. His body was taken to Hawesville where arrangements were made for the funeral. Roberts formerly lived at Duges and was a farmer, but recently moved to Lewisport. He was forty-five years of age and left a wife and four children.

Make a note now to get Ely's Cream Balm if you are troubled with nasal catarrh, hay fever or cold in the head. It is purifying and soothing to the sensitive membranes that line the air-passages. It is made to cure the disease, not to tool the patient by a short, deceptive relief. There is no cocaine nor mercury in it. Do not be talked into taking a substitute for Ely's Cream Balm. All druggists sell it. Price 50c. Mailed by Ely Bros., 36 Warren Street, New York.

Good Service.

Homer and Marshall Marlow have just changed the delivery of the daily Louisville newspapers and the Breckenridge News. They are giving splendid service and prompt attention will be given to new subscribers to the Breckenridge News, The Times, Post and Courier-Journal.

Mr. Kramer Will Build.

Philip Kramer has recently bought ten acres of the LaBeau land, on the hill, and will begin to build a six-room residence at an early date.

Two of a Kind.

JOE FITCH.

J. C. CARICO.

Just this past week Mr. F. Ferry asked Mr. Joe Fitch why he did not notice him when he spoke coming home on the train from Louisville two weeks ago. Fitch replied that he had not been on a train before that time for several days, and he was speaking not to him but to his double, J. C. Carico. Occurrences like this are experienced most frequently by both Mr. Fitch and Mr. Carico. They resemble each other so greatly that even their best friends are many times completely fooled as was Mr. Ferry.

The two men are not related and met only two years ago. Mr. Carico is connected with the Standard Oil Co., with headquarters at Owensboro, and travels in this and surrounding counties where Mr. Fitch has many relatives and friends. Mr. Fitch is foreman of the wood shop of the Henderson Route house and is serving his second term as city councilman for Cloverport. There is only a year difference in their ages, Mr. Fitch being thirty-seven years of age, and Mr. Carico is a year younger. They are both married and have families.

THOUGHT HE WAS DEATH RELIEVES GETTING NEAR HIS DAUGHTER.

MRS. LUCY BOARD.

Prominent Woman Passes Away
at Her Home in Hardinsburg Wednesday.

Mr. Ulrich Farber Struck By Train And Died Within A Few Minutes.

Wednesday morning about 9:30, Ulrich Farber, one of Cloverport's oldest citizens, was struck by a L. H. & St. L. passenger train, No. 112, near the Henderson Route Shops and only drove over or two breaths before he died. The accident, though a great shock to his family and friends, was not a surprise for they had feared death would come to him this way. He seemed to have a narrow escape when the railroad track, which runs on the street where he lived and his family, many times in the last few months, had his feet hit the gates to keep him at home. He often walked to the railroad shop because he thought he was getting nearer his daughter, Mrs. Russell Hawkins, who lives in Seattle, Washington.

Mr. Farber's body was put on the train immediately and taken to the depot, and as soon as Coroner Lee Bishop arrived from Hardinsburg, an inquest was held. Mr. Farber was eighty-three years of age. He was born in Bawaria, Germany, and sailed to this country when he was a young man. After he arrived, he lived in Louisville two or three years, then came to Hardinsburg. In 1865, he was married to Mrs. Isabelle Ray, who died two years ago. Mr. Farber was a tailor and worked constantly until the last three years.

He was a member of the Presbyterian church, but he requested his funeral be held from the Baptist church and that the services be held by the Rev. James Lewis, who conducted his wife's funeral. The arrangements were carried out at his wish and his funeral took place at 2:30 Thursday afternoon. The remains were interred in the Clopton cemetery.

The Cloverport Graded and High School, of which Mr. Farber's grandsons, Louie and J. P. Ditzbaugh are pupils, was dismissed and the teachers and scholars attended the funeral services.

The following children survived him: John and Addison Farber, Mrs. Kate Ditzbaugh, with whom he made his home, and George Farber, of Finley, Mrs. Russell Hawkins, of Seattle, Wash., and Will Farber, who is in the United States Army.

Pain sometimes, pain in the head, periodical periods. Neuralgia, rheumatism, all pains can be promptly stopped by thoroughly safe little Pink Candy Tablets, known by druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets. Pain simply means congestion—induce blood pressure at the point where pain exists. Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets quickly equalize this unnatural blood pressure, and pain immediately departs. Write Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis., and get a free trial package. Large box 25 cts. I Solby All Dealers.

BUSY WEEK AT HARDINSBURG.

Electoral Commissioners Meet—Dr.

Kincheloe Met With An Accident Sunday.

County court next Monday. Quarterly Court last Monday. Gus Brown was in Louisville several days of last week.

Edgar Lewis, of Bradfordsville was in town Monday.

Charles Butler, of Buras, was here Monday attending court.

W. E. Board is taking the assessment of this Magisterial district.

S. F. Keys, of Irvington, was in town Monday on a business trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Joel H. Pile were visitors at Mook, last week.

Eoy R. Moorman went to Louisville Monday to attend the Fair.

John F. Morton, of Cloverport, was in town Monday on a business trip.

S. A. Pace, C. E. Hawes and L. B. Reeves went to Louisville, Sunday.

C. V. Robertson has returned home from a stay at French Creek Springs.

W. F. Hook has commenced the erection of a fine residence in the south end of town.

B. F. Beard went to Burgin Monday to visit his daughter, Mrs. A. E. Eddie.

A large number of Hardinsburg folks will go to Louisville to attend the State Fair.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis D. Fox, of Stephensport are visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Haskell.

Miss Bettie Taylor of Custer, who has been visiting friends, here returned home last week.

Col. and Mrs. E. L. Robertson, of Glendale, were visitors here several days of last week.

T. J. Hook left last week for a trip to New York, Washington and the Jamestown Exposition.

Dawson Hook, of Louisville, who has been visiting his mother, Mrs. Annie C. Hook, reuin, died home last week.

M. D. Beard and George Evans were in Louisville last week purchasing a line of goods for B. F. Beard & Co.

The Rev. Isaiah Cline will leave Tuesday for Louisville, where he will attend the conference of his church.

A Mass convention of the Republican party will meet here Saturday for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Representative.

Drs. J. W. Meadow and J. E. Kincheloe operated successfully upon Tillmore Johnson, of Custer, for stungoloma, one day last week.

The Rev. B. W. Brandon preached the last sermon of his conference year. He will start for Columbia to attend conference, Monday.

Tom Brown, of Kirk, was operated upon last Friday for appendicitis. Dr. John E. Kincheloe performed the operation. The patient is recovering.

Misses Margaret and Evelyn Beard will stay this week for Blackstone, Va., where they will attend a preparatory school to Randolph-Macon college at Lynchburg.

The Canfield factory is now running to its full capacity. The farmers are delivering fine tomatoes and are well pleased with the crop considering the weather condition.

William McGill and daughter, Miss Corinne, of Spring Lick, who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. John T. Hoben and other relatives, have returned home.

Dr. John E. Kincheloe met with an accident Sunday which resulted in a broken rib and a bruised shoulder. He was riding a young and unruly horse which ran against a tree.

The Board of Election Commissioners met here today and appointed the officers for the November election. The board is composed of Jesse Whitworth, W. S. Ball and Milt Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris H. Beard leave today for Louisville to attend the State Bankers' Association. They will also go to Atlantic City to the National Bankers' meeting. Before returning they will visit other eastern cities.

Dr. E. F. Day left Monday for Fulton, where he will locate and practice his profession.

He built up a good practice while here, and won the confidence and esteem of our citizens, who wish him greater success in his new field of labor.

PERSONAL NOTES FROM IRVINGTON.

Public School Opens--Many Visitors to State Fair at Louisville.

Edwin Jolly spent several days last week at Tar Springs.

Mr. W. J. Piggott spent Thursday in Louisville on business.

Mrs. Sue Jolly left Monday for Louisville for a visit to Mrs. LuLu Nunnally.

Capt. Williams, of Evansville, spent a few days last week with Mrs. J. K. Bramlett.

Miss Ellen Munford left Saturday for an indefinite visit to the Misses Tyding, of Louisville.

Go to McGlothian & Piggott's for your fence wire. Just got a car-load of new wire.

Thurman Dowell shipped a car load of mixed stock to Louisville from this point last week.

Hubert Piggott will leave this week for Terra Haute, after spending the summer at home.

Mrs. Jack Cone, and baby, of Birmingham, Ala., are visitors of Mrs. Nora Board for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Cunningham, of Chenaunt, are visitors of their daughter, Mrs. W. B. Gardner.

Misses Little and Eva McGlothian spent a few days in Louisville last week attending the Fair.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Head, of Garfield, spent Saturday here the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Matt Payne.

Mrs. Proctor Main left for Hopkinsville last Friday after a week spent with her sister Mrs. S. P. Parks.

Miss Alice Owlesy, of White Mills, has returned after being the guest of Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Marshall.

Mrs. Frank Peyton, of Falls of Rough, spent a few days last week visiting Mrs. P. E. Dempster.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Claycomb and children have returned from a short visit to relatives in Ohio county.

Mrs. Hawes and daughter, Virginia, of Owensboro, are visiting Mrs. and Mrs. Charlie Hawes for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Neafus have returned to Louisville after spending two weeks here among relatives and friends.

Mrs. Lydia A. Jolly and two children, Edwin and Claire, left Tuesday for Louisville, where they will spend the winter.

Mrs. Charlie L. Chamberlain has returned from Tip Top after being the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Galloway.

Miss Wilda Drury left Monday for Louisville to attend the Fair and while there will be the guest of her sister, Miss R. Ada Drury.

Mrs. H. W. Herndon and charming daughter, Miss Wilda Herndon, of Henderson, spent a few days last week visiting Mr. and Mrs. T. N. McGlothian.

Mr. Tom Thomas has sold his beautiful little cottage in the new edition of town to Mr. Rice, of Fordville. Consideration $300. Mr. Rice took possession at once and moved his family in.

The Public school opened last Monday morning with an excellent attendance and a good prospect for a school.

Miss Anna Payne, of Beaverville, will have charge of the principal room and Mr. Massie, of Harned, will be the assistant teacher.

Notice Tax Payers

All City and School Taxes for the year 1907 are due. Pay now and avoid the penalty.

CHARLIE MAY City and School Tax Collector, Office in rear room Cloverport Bank.

Draughon's Chain of Colleges.

Prof. Leo F. Draughon, president of Draughon's chain of thirty colleges, located in seventeen states, Evansville, Paducah, St. Louis, etc., recently purchased the Spencerian Business College, Washington, D. C., one of the first business colleges established in the United States.

Draughon's Company is incorporated, $300,000 capital. It recently paid 20 per cent dividend. About eight thousand students attend Draughon's Colleges annually.

THE LION AND THE MOUSE.

By CHARLES KLEIN.

A Story of American Life Novelized From the Play by ARTHUR HORNBLow.

COPYRIGHT, 1906, BY G. W. DILLINGHAM COMPANY.

is wrong—the girl's all right."

Jefferson stirred forward as if to resent those insults to the woman he loved, but realizing that it was his own father, he stopped short and his hands fell powerless at his side.

"That's all," inquired Ryder senior, with a smile.

"That's all," replied Jefferson, "I'm going. Goodby."

"Goodby," answered his father indifferently. "Leave your address with me."

Jefferson left the room and Ryder senior, as if exhausted by the violence of his own outburst, sank back limp in his chair. The crisis he dreaded had come at last. His son had openly defied him, and he could not marry the daughter of his enemy. He must do something to prevent it; the marriage must not take place, but what could he do? The boy was of age and legally his own master. He could do nothing to restrain his actions unless they were taken in the name of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

He would rather see his son there, he mused, than married to the Rossmore woman.

Presently there was a timid knock at the library door. Ryder rose from his seat and went to see who was there. To his surprise it was Miss Green.

"May I come in?" asked Shirley.

"Certainly, by all means. Sit down." He drew up a chair for her, and his manner was so cordial that she was ready to see her young visitor.

"Mr. Ryder," she began in a low, tremulous voice, "I have come to see you on a very important matter. I've been waiting to see you all day. Tell me—I want to speak to you a little longer—I want to ask you a great favor, perhaps the greatest you were ever asked. I want to ask you for mercy—for mercy to—"

She stopped and gazed nervously at her visitor, but he was paying no attention to what she was saying. He was putting heavily at his chair, entirely preoccupied with his own thoughts. Her sudden silence aroused him. He apologized.

"Oh, excuse me! I didn't quite catch what you said."

She said nothing, wondering what had happened to render him so absent-minded. He read the question in her face, for turning toward her, he explained.

"For the first time in my life I am face to face with defeat—defeat of the most ignominious kind—incapacity—inability to regulate my own internal affairs. I can rule a government, but I can't manage my own family—my own affairs. I am failing. 'Tis me," he added, appealing to her, "who can't rule my own household, who can't rule my own child!"

"Why can't you govern yourself?" said Shirley quietly.

Ryder looked steadily at her for a moment, without answering her question; then, as if prompted by a sudden inspiration, he said:

"You can help me, but not by preaching at me. This is the first time in my life that I have turned to a woman for help. I only intended to despatch her. This time there is a woman in the case, and I need your woman's will!"

"How can I help you?" asked Shirley.

"I don't know." He was answered with unusual excitement. "An I told you I am up to my ears in trouble. I can't see my way."

He gave a nervous little laugh and went on: "I'm ashamed of myself—ashamed! Did you ever read the fable of the Lion and the Mouse?"

"Well, I want you to know about your son's wife," he said, "and the cords which bind the son of John Bennett Ryder to this Rossmore woman. I want you to be the mouse—to set me free of this disgraceful entanglement."

"How?" said Shirley calmly.

"I don't know," he replied. "Can't you think—you're a woman—you have youth, beauty—brains." He stopped and eyed her closely until she reddened from the embarrassing scrutiny. Then he snatched out: "By George! I'm a fool—for him to let go of this other woman! Why not? Come, what do you say?"

The unexpected suggestion came upon Shirley with all the force of a violent shock. She immediately saw through the ruse. This man was asking for her hand, but he was under the impression that she was another woman. He would be dismally aware of her to keep up the deception any longer. She passed her head over her hands in a fit of confusion.

"You must give me time to think," she stammered. "Suppose I don't love your son. I should want something—something to compensate."

"Something to compensate?" echoed Ryder, suddenly perturbed by anxiety to hear the news from Washington.

"No," said Ryder quickly. "Judge Stott will detain me but a very few moments."

Your mind to. A woman with your resources can blind him to any other woman."

"But—she loves Judge Rossmore's son?" objected Shirley.

"It's for you to make him forget her, and you can," replied the financier coolly.

"As Judge Rossmore's friend and counsel," answered Stott. "I am impelled to ask your help at this critical moment."

"The matter is in the hands of the United States Senate, sir," replied Ryder coolly.

"They are against him!" cried Stott. "Not one senator I've spoken to holds out any hope for him. If he is convicted it will mean his death. In fact by law his life is leaving him."

"So much the greater the victory for you," he answered good humoredly.

"Ah, you said reproachfully, "you don't know your son. He has not lost his manly strength of character, than you think and far more principle than you have."

"So much the greater the victory for you," he answered good humoredly.

"I know you. That is sufficient," he replied.

"No, no, no," returned Shirley, "but do you know your son. He has not lost his manly strength of character, than you think and far more principle than you have."

"I know you. That is sufficient," he replied.

"It's because I love him that I'm not a fool in this matter. Don't you see that if he marries this girl it would separate us and I should be alone."

"I don't want to be alone."

"To me, to my house, it would make me the laughing stock of all my friends and business associates. Come, will you join forces with me?"

Shirley shook her head and was about to leave when the telephone bell rang. She took off the receiver and spoke to the butler downstairs:

"Who's that? Judge Stott? Tell him I'm too busy to see any one. What's that? A man's life at stake? What's that? To do for me? Tell you what I'm doing?"

On hearing Stott's name, Shirley nearly burst herself. She turned pale and half started up from her chair. Something serious must have happened to bring her father's legal aid here. The butler came in a few moments later. She thought he was in Washington. Could it be that the proceedings in the Senate were ended and the result known? She could hardly conceal her anxiety and instinctively she placed her hand on her father's shoulder.

"Tell him I'm working in his father's interests," replied Stott, and, he added significantly, "I believe with some hope of success."

"I'll have Shirley a quick, questioning look. She nodded affirmatively. Ryder, who had seen nothing of this byplay, said with a smile:

"Surely you didn't come here tonight to tell me what you were up to with good news. He is very ill tonight," said Shirley. He halted for a moment and glanced in Shirley's direction, and, slightly raising his voice so she might hear, he added, "If he gets worse, we'll have to send for a doctor."

"What's his doctor?" demanded Ryder, suddenly interested.

"He is working in his father's interests," replied Stott, and, he added significantly, "I believe with some hope of success."

Shirley made a quick, questioning look. She nodded affirmatively. Ryder, who had seen nothing of this byplay, said with a smile:

"Surely you didn't come here tonight to tell me what you were up to with good news. He is very ill tonight," said Shirley. He halted for a moment and glanced in Shirley's direction, and, slightly raising his voice so she might hear, he added, "If he gets worse, we'll have to send for a doctor."

"What's his doctor?" demanded Ryder, suddenly interested.

"He is working in his father's interests," replied Stott, and, he added significantly, "I believe with some hope of success."

Shirley made a motion as if about to leave. He stopped her with a gesture.

"Please don't go, Miss Green. As the wife of my biography you are sufficiently well acquainted with my family affairs to warrant your being present at the epilogue. Please, I want you to come forward and declare."

Ryder made an effort to control himself.

"I'll do nothing of the kind. I refuse to leave in the middle of the play. That is final. And now, sir," he added, taking his pipe and pointing to the letters, "I wish to know how comes it that you have in your possession private correspondence addressed to me?"

"That I cannot answer," replied Stott finally.

"From whom did you receive these letters?" demanded Ryder.

Stott was dumb, while Shirley clutching her hair as if she would faint.

Shirley left her place and came slowly forward. Addressing Ryder, she said:

"I wish to make a statement."

Shirley had made her statement.

What could she know about it, he wondered, and he waited with interest.

"Oh, don't—please!" My position is so false! You don't know how false it is!" she cried.

She had run out of the library door was thrown open and the butler appeared, ushering in Stott. The lawyer looked anxious, and his disheveled appearance indicated that he had come direct from the train. Shirley scolded him for his carelessness in the hope that he might read where that had happened.

He walked right past her, giving no sign of recognition, and advanced directly toward Ryder, who had risen and remained standing at his desk.

"Perhaps I had better not venture Shirley, still perturbed by anxiety to hear the news from Washington.

"No," said Ryder quickly. "Judge Stott will detain me but a very few moments."

The way to get rid of a cold, whether it be a bad cold! or just a little one, is to get it out of your system through the bowels. Nearly all Couph Cures, especially those that contain opium, are constipating. Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup contains no opium and acts gently on the bowels. Pleasant to take. Sold by all druggists.

driven delivered himself of this decision; but he looked to his visitor as if inviting him to come to the point as rapidly as possible.

"I must apologize for intruding at this unseemly hour, sir," said Stott. "The Senate meets tomorrow to vote. If anything is to be done for Judge Rossmore it must be done tonight."

"I fail to see why you address yourself to me in this matter, sir," replied Ryder with asperity.

"As Judge Rossmore's friend and counsel," answered Stott. "I am impelled to ask your help at this critical moment."

"The matter is in the hands of the

Senate," he cried, "this man, this judge whose honor is at stake and his daughter, who most likely has no honor at state, between them have made a thief and a liar of my soul! False to his father, false to his party! And you sir, here to help him? I shall never forgive you for it. I shall intercede for him."

"It's for you to make him forget her, and you can," replied the financier coolly.

"As Judge Rossmore's friend and counsel," answered Stott. "I am impelled to ask your help at this critical moment."

"The matter is in the hands of the

Senate," he cried, "this man, this judge whose honor is at stake and his daughter, who most likely has no honor at state, between them have made a thief and a liar of my soul! False to his father, false to his party! And you sir, here to help him? I shall never forgive you for it. I shall intercede for him."

"It's for you to make him forget her, and you can," replied the financier coolly.

"As Judge Rossmore's friend and counsel," answered Stott. "I am impelled to ask your help at this critical moment."

"The matter is in the hands of the

Senate," he cried, "this man, this judge whose honor is at stake and his daughter, who most likely has no honor at state, between them have made a thief and a liar of my soul! False to his father, false to his party! And you sir, here to help him? I shall never forgive you for it. I shall intercede for him."

"It's for you to make him forget her, and you can," replied the financier coolly.

"As Judge Rossmore's friend and counsel," answered Stott. "I am impelled to ask your help at this critical moment."

"The matter is in the hands of the

Senate," he cried, "this man, this judge whose honor is at stake and his daughter, who most likely has no honor at state, between them have made a thief and a liar of my soul! False to his father, false to his party! And you sir, here to help him? I shall never forgive you for it. I shall intercede for him."

"It's for you to make him forget her, and you can," replied the financier coolly.

"As Judge Rossmore's friend and counsel," answered Stott. "I am impelled to ask your help at this critical moment."

"The matter is in the hands of the

Senate," he cried, "this man, this judge whose honor is at stake and his daughter, who most likely has no honor at state, between them have made a thief and a liar of my soul! False to his father, false to his party! And you sir, here to help him? I shall never forgive you for it. I shall intercede for him."

"It's for you to make him forget her, and you can," replied the financier coolly.

"As Judge Rossmore's friend and counsel," answered Stott. "I am impelled to ask your help at this critical moment."

"The matter is in the hands of the

Senate," he cried, "this man, this judge whose honor is at stake and his daughter, who most likely has no honor at state, between them have made a thief and a liar of my soul! False to his father, false to his party! And you sir, here to help him? I shall never forgive you for it. I shall intercede for him."

"It's for you to make him forget her, and you can," replied the financier coolly.

"As Judge Rossmore's friend and counsel," answered Stott. "I am impelled to ask your help at this critical moment."

"The matter is in the hands of the

Senate," he cried, "this man, this judge whose honor is at stake and his daughter, who most likely has no honor at state, between them have made a thief and a liar of my soul! False to his father, false to his party! And you sir, here to help him? I shall never forgive you for it. I shall intercede for him."

"It's for you to make him forget her, and you can," replied the financier coolly.

"As Judge Rossmore's friend and counsel," answered Stott. "I am impelled to ask your help at this critical moment."

"The matter is in the hands of the

Senate," he cried, "this man, this judge whose honor is at stake and his daughter, who most likely has no honor at state, between them have made a thief and a liar of my soul! False to his father, false to his party! And you sir, here to help him? I shall never forgive you for it. I shall intercede for him."

"It's for you to make him forget her, and you can," replied the financier coolly.

"As Judge Rossmore's friend and counsel," answered Stott. "I am impelled to ask your help at this critical moment."

"The matter is in the hands of the

Senate," he cried, "this man, this judge whose honor is at stake and his daughter, who most likely has no honor at state, between them have made a thief and a liar of my soul! False to his father, false to his party! And you sir, here to help him? I shall never forgive you for it. I shall intercede for him."

"It's for you to make him forget her, and you can," replied the financier coolly.

"As Judge Rossmore's friend and counsel," answered Stott. "I am impelled to ask your help at this critical moment."

"The matter is in the hands of the

Senate," he cried, "this man, this judge whose honor is at stake and his daughter, who most likely has no honor at state, between them have made a thief and a liar of my soul! False to his father, false to his party! And you sir, here to help him? I shall never forgive you for it. I shall intercede for him."

"It's for you to make him forget her, and you can," replied the financier coolly.

"As Judge Rossmore's friend and counsel," answered Stott. "I am impelled to ask your help at this critical moment."

"The matter is in the hands of the

Senate," he cried, "this man, this judge whose honor is at stake and his daughter, who most likely has no honor at state, between them have made a thief and a liar of my soul! False to his father, false to his party! And you sir, here to help him? I shall never forgive you for it. I shall intercede for him."

"It's for you to make him forget her, and you can," replied the financier coolly.

"As Judge Rossmore's friend and counsel," answered Stott. "I am impelled to ask your help at this critical moment."

"The matter is in the hands of the

Senate," he cried, "this man, this judge whose honor is at stake and his daughter, who most likely has no honor at state, between them have made a thief and a liar of my soul! False to his father, false to his party! And you sir, here to help him? I shall never forgive you for it. I shall intercede for him."

"It's for you to make him forget her, and you can," replied the financier coolly.

"As Judge Rossmore's friend and counsel," answered Stott. "I am impelled to ask your help at this critical moment."

"The matter is in the hands of the

Senate," he cried, "this man, this judge whose honor is at stake and his daughter, who most likely has no honor at state, between them have made a thief and a liar of my soul! False to his father, false to his party! And you sir, here to help him? I shall never forgive you for it. I shall intercede for him."

"It's for you to make him forget her, and you can," replied the financier coolly.

"As Judge Rossmore's friend and counsel," answered Stott. "I am impelled to ask your help at this critical moment."

"The matter is in the hands of the

Senate," he cried, "this man, this judge whose honor is at stake and his daughter, who most likely has no honor at state, between them have made a thief and a liar of my soul! False to his father, false to his party! And you sir, here to help him? I shall never forgive you for it. I shall intercede for him."

"It's for you to make him forget her, and you can," replied the financier coolly.

"As Judge Rossmore's friend and counsel," answered Stott. "I am impelled to ask your help at this critical moment."

"The matter is in the hands of the

Senate," he cried, "this man, this judge whose honor is at stake and his daughter, who most likely has no honor at state, between them have made a thief and a liar of my soul! False to his father, false to his party! And you sir, here to help him? I shall never forgive you for it. I shall intercede for him."

"It's for you to make him forget her, and you can," replied the financier coolly.

"As Judge Rossmore's friend and counsel," answered Stott. "I am impelled to ask your help at this critical moment."

"The matter is in the hands of the

Senate," he cried, "this man, this judge whose honor is at stake and his daughter, who most likely has no honor at state, between them have made a thief and a liar of my soul! False to his father, false to his party! And you sir, here to help him? I shall never forgive you for it. I shall intercede for him."

"It's for you to make him forget her, and you can," replied the financier coolly.

"As Judge Rossmore's friend and counsel," answered Stott. "I am impelled to ask your help at this critical moment."

"The matter is in the hands of the

Senate," he cried, "this man, this judge whose honor is at stake and his daughter, who most likely has no honor at state, between them have made a thief and a liar of my soul! False to his father, false to his party! And you sir, here to help him? I shall never forgive you for it. I shall intercede for him."

"It's for you to make him forget her, and you can," replied the financier coolly.

"As Judge Rossmore's friend and counsel," answered Stott. "I am impelled to ask your help at this critical moment."

"The matter is in the hands of the

Senate," he cried, "this man, this judge whose honor is at stake and his daughter, who most likely has no honor at state, between them have made a thief and a liar of my soul! False to his father, false to his party! And you sir, here to help him? I shall never forgive you for it. I shall intercede for him."

"It's for you to make him forget her, and you can," replied the financier coolly.

"As Judge Rossmore's friend and counsel," answered Stott. "I am impelled to ask your help at this critical moment."

"The matter is in the hands of the

Senate," he cried, "this man, this judge whose honor is at stake and his daughter, who most likely has no honor at state, between them have made a thief and a liar of my soul! False to his father, false to his party! And you sir, here to help him? I shall never forgive you for it. I shall intercede for him."

"It's for you to make him forget her, and you can," replied the financier coolly.

"As Judge Rossmore's friend and counsel," answered Stott. "I am impelled to ask your help at this critical moment."

"The matter is in the hands of the

Senate," he cried, "this man, this judge whose honor is at stake and his daughter, who most likely has no honor at state, between them have made a thief and a liar of my soul! False to his father, false to his party! And you sir, here to help him? I shall never forgive you for it. I shall intercede for him."

"It's for you to make him forget her, and you can," replied the financier coolly.

"As Judge Rossmore's friend and counsel," answered Stott. "I am impelled to ask your help at this critical moment."

"The matter is in the hands of the

Senate," he cried, "this man, this judge whose honor is at stake and his daughter, who most likely has no honor at state, between them have made a thief and a liar of my soul! False to his father, false to his party! And you sir, here to help him? I shall never forgive you for it. I shall intercede for him."

"It's for you to make him forget her, and you can," replied the financier coolly.

"As Judge Rossmore's friend and counsel," answered Stott. "I am impelled to ask your help at this critical moment."

"The matter is in the hands of the

Senate," he cried, "this man, this judge whose honor is at stake and his daughter, who most likely has no honor at state, between them have made a thief and a liar of my soul! False to his father, false to his party! And you sir, here to help him? I shall never forgive you for it. I shall intercede for him."

"It's for you to make him forget her, and you can," replied the financier coolly.

"As Judge Rossmore's friend and counsel," answered Stott. "I am impelled to ask your help at this critical moment."

"The matter is in the hands of the

Senate," he cried, "this man, this judge whose honor is at stake and his daughter, who most likely has no honor at state, between them have made a thief and a liar of my soul! False to his father, false to his party! And you sir, here to help him? I shall never forgive you for it. I shall intercede for him."

"It's for you to make him forget her, and you can," replied the financier coolly.

"As Judge Rossmore's friend and counsel," answered Stott. "I am impelled to ask your help at this critical moment."

"The matter is in the hands of the

Senate," he cried, "this man, this judge whose honor is at stake and his daughter, who most likely has no honor at state, between them have made a thief and a liar of my soul! False to his father, false to his party! And you sir, here to help him? I shall never forgive you for it. I shall intercede for him."

"It's for you to make him forget her, and you can," replied the financier coolly.

"As Judge Rossmore's friend and counsel," answered Stott. "I am impelled to ask your help at this critical moment."

"The matter is in the hands of the

Senate," he cried, "this man, this judge whose honor is at stake and his daughter, who most likely has no honor at state, between them have made a thief and a liar of my soul! False to his father, false to his party! And you sir, here to help him? I shall never forgive you for it. I shall intercede for him."

"It's for you to make him forget her, and you can," replied the financier coolly.

"As Judge Rossmore's friend and counsel," answered Stott. "I am impelled to ask your help at this critical moment."

"The matter is in the hands of the

BRECKENRIDGE NEWS

JNO. D. BARBAGE SONS' Publishing Co.

Subscription Price $1.00 a year or 1.50 if paid at the end of the year.

CARDS OF THANKS over five lines charged at the rate of 10 cents each.
OBITUARIES accepted for at the rate of 5 cents per line. Money in advance.

Issued Every Wednesday.

Examine the label on your paper. If it is not correct please notify us.

When ordering a change in the address subscribers should give their old as well as new address.

EIGHT PAGES.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 18, 1907

Nothing doing in this county in the way of politics. But there'll be something done tho' when Boss Mill and Boss Gus get their machines in working order.

Kentucky for Roosevelt? Sure! By an overwhelming majority. We don't believe there is a man in Kentucky, be he Democrat or Republican, who, deep down in his heart, would not be glad to see Mr. Roosevelt president for the next four years.

There has been some good work done on the road from Stephensburg to Union Star—the best in years. The man who did it knew something about road working. That kind of work pays. It satisfies the traveling public and the tax-payer.

50,000 people attended the State Fair
Monday, 17,000 of whom were children.
Great day for the people and a glorious beginning for Secretary Hughes. You can't down the young blood of Kentucky when they put their shoulders to the wheel.

We admire Mr. Wilson's position on the Taylor-Powers case. We believe Mr. Wilson would be just as far from pardoning either without a trial or a just cause as Mr. Hagar. Cut the business clear out of the campaign and get on something higher. Good roads would be a mighty question for discussion and it would be a question vital to the interests of all the people.

It is a pleasure to do business with people like the State Fair managers.
They are liberal, broad-minded and able men. No one could be more pleased. We'd like to see men of their caliber ahead of the State government for about four years. Stock in Kentucky State affairs would be worth 200 for one instead of what it is now, now below par.

Judge Adair thinks we newspaper men ought to let up on our picnics and fairs, we'll be six months getting over the effects. But the Judge forgets that newspaper men are human and just like other men, in some respects, they like to talk about things they help to make. The newspapers of this country have as much to do—or more if you please—with the success of any other influence.
They are like bankers when they make a good big loan, and a successful one, they like to talk it.

Harrison has been out West and things look so good to him that he announced that he will double track his railroad from Chicago to the Pacific coast. Proprietary, press and executive is what he means by Harrison man to add to the facilities of his big railway system. He will expend about $100,000,000 in doing this, and this means business for everybody. You can't spend a hundred million in this country, but what it is felt by every section in the country. We are glad there are Harrimans with nerve, foresight and money.

Another good piece of road working in this county is the one from Hardinsburg to the fair grounds. It's a regular boulevard—a splendid piece of road work, and as smooth as asphalt. It does a man's soul good to drive or ride over it. Do you know how that came about? Just two or three men put their heads together and the public sentiment was in favor of it, and a public sentiment went after the road superiors and the road was built. Every man, woman and child in Hardinsburg was crying for a good driveway to the fair grounds, and they got it. No ordinary road, thirty feet wide, filled with rock as big as your head would satisfy them.
They must have the best, the widest, the smoothest piece of road in the county, and they got it. People get just what they go for in this country.
We are glad that public sentiment was aroused sufficiently to build such a splendid driveway. It is a pleasure to ride over a good road, especially in this county, where there are so many good horses and buggies; and what we want to do is to put our shoulders to the wheel and we'll get it just like they did at Hardinsburg.

The State Fair and the Owensboro
Fair are both on this week.

Judge Adair says the fair at Hardins-burg beat anything he ever saw in the way of a fair. "It was better than the Owensboro Fair in its best days," said the Judge.

If a man had worked that piece of road from Hardinsburg to the fair grounds like the man worked the road from Garfield to Custer, where would he have been today? Dead!

Squire Vessells didn't have a case on his docket at Union Star last rule day.
He filled it in time, however, playing marbles with the boys. The Squire says he would rather play marbles any time than sit in a case.

McQUADY.

But few from here attended the show at Hardinsburg last week.

Miss Mildred Potts spent one day last week with Miss Louise Beeler near Kirk.

School is progressing nicely here, under the management of Prof. Lasley and Miss Bertha Walker.

Born to the wife of Robert Butler,
Sept. 11, a boy.

T. C. Taul is in Louisville this week on business.

Mr. and Mrs. June Mattingly, of Tell City, Ind., were the guests of Mrs. Mattingly's parents, Mr. and Mrs.
Fladie McGary, last week.

Mrs. Mary Reardon, of Howell, Ind., is the guest of her uncles, Frank Rupert and Dennis Sheeran, this week.

G. S. Wilson, will start for Oklahoma Sunday. Mr. Wilson has purchased land there. His family will follow later, where they will permanently reside.

LODIBURG.

Mrs. C. C. Grant and daughter, Leonta, visited relatives at Brandenburg last week.

Claude Mercer, of Hardinsburg, was here one day last week.

The new residence of Flake Ators is almost completed.

Miss Moormann, of Big Spring, has returned home after a visit with Miss Mayme Adkinson.

A number from here will attend the Fair at Louisville.

Miss May Mercer and Edgar Compton spent Saturday and Sunday at Garfield with friends.

John Avitt is able to be up after being confined to his room for several days.

C. Grant was at Sample Sunday
on business.

SEXTON RESIGNS

THIS WEEK

Hawesville Man Will be Manager of Cumberland Telephone Company in This City.

W. C. Sexton, manager of the Cumberland Telephone Company at this place, had tendered his resignation to take effect the week Auditor, A.
D. Johnson, of Hawesville, had closed up the work which has been under Mr.
Sexton's direction and will have everything in readiness at the office for Mr.
C. E. Eley, of Hawesville, who has accepted the position.

Mr. Sexton will have been here two years next May, having formerly lived at Owensboro. He is well liked by the people in Cloverport, and has many friends here and in this county.

WHY KIRKWOOD SHUT DOWN.
Some time ago the city of Kirkwood, Mo., was compelled to have shut down the generating plant of its electric light plant and made a contract for current with a private company. The arrangement was not, however, consummated, for the company, Mayor Harriman claims, did not act in good faith. The mayor gave the further statement that he will take the further step of calling a special session of the city council to consider the matter.

The plant was built about the year 1901, and on account of its being a private matter the city did not get along to have it repaired. The city is feeling from having a plant that does not meet the requirements, and the cost of production is too high; consequently it does not pay the city if we take into consideration depreciation and the interest on our investment."

TWO DIVERSE ESTIMATES.
The question of installing a municipal lighting plant at Hancock, Mich., has been laid at rest for five years at least, a compact for that purpose having been made by the city commissioners and the aldermen. This matter has been under discussion for some time, and an estimate of the cost of a plant was obtained from an engineer. The amount of this estimate, $15,000, seemed so low that one of the aldermen got another engineer, who figured that the cost would be $30,000.

BLACK JACK NOTES

Mrs. Dr. Hardesty is on the sick list.

Mrs. Celia Miller, Miss Mary Lamb and Mrs. M. E. Sherlock, of Elkhorn, spent Monday with Mrs. Lizzie Brown.

Miss Fannie and Lizzie Shacklett of Paradise, and Lula Sipe, spent Saturday with the Misses Prather.

Simpson Downs, who has been visiting his brother, J. W. Downs, for a few weeks, left Sunday for Indiana for a short stay and from there he will go to Colorado.

A. W. Shacklett went to Guston
Wednesday on business for his sister, Mrs. Burch.

Lon Hardesty, who has typhoid fever, is some better.

J. W. Downs bought 28 acres of land from his brother, Simpson Downs, consideration $300.

J. R. Shacklett sold to R. A. Hamilton last Saturday, a fine lot, liking some few days of being three months old, for $95 cash.

Gordon Brown, of Guston, spent several days last week with relatives here.

Dr. Hardesty is contemplating on returning to Paynesville to practice as soon as sickness in his family will permit. He will leave his family on the farm.

Several from here are contemplating on going to the State Fair next week in Louisville.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Prather spent several days in Louisville last week the guest of his brother, J. H. Prather and family.

School at Black Jack is progressing nicely.

MATTINGLY.

B. F. Franks has cut some tobacco.
Miss Maggie Newman has returned home from Evansville.

Karl Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. R.
H. Wilson, has typhoid fever.

John Nobe Duncan, of Mike, is ill with typhoid fever at his home at Cloverport.

Sam Brickey, of Evansville, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. N. Brickey and Miss Nannie Ryan, and little nephew Frank Newman are visiting in Evansville.

Rev. Day of Rockvale, filled his appointment at Pisgah church last Saturday and Sunday.

H. J. Robert, of Mike, was in our town last week prospecting with a view of purchasing a place, of this place, has gone to Los Angeles, Calif.,
to seek a location.

James Taul, of Evansville, formerly of this place, has gone to Los Angeles, Calif.,
to seek a location.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben McQuady and little daughter, Lena, of Evansville are here on a visit to their parents, Mr. and Mrs.
R. C. Mattingly.

Mrs. Frank Frank, of Mattingly and son Fred, have had about two hundred and fifty chickens die in the last few weeks with some strange disease.

Miss Effie and Clara Fale, two charming young girls, of Owensboro, are visiting relatives at Mike.

How's This?

We offer one thousand dollars reward for any one of Colfax that can furnish us by July 1st, C. E. CHENEY & CO., Toledo,
Ohio, the undersigned, have known F. J.
Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him particularly honorable in all business transactions. We desire to reward him for any obligations made by his firm, Waddington, O., for which he has not been paid, in accordance directly upon the book and minutes of the stockholders of the company.

Miss Effie and Clara Fale, two charming young girls, of Owensboro, are visiting relatives at Mike.

DRUGGISTS.

FOR ALL KINDS OF

GUSTON.

Mrs. A. O. Marshall spent last week at Tar Springs.

Willie Miller returned home Sunday after spending a few weeks at Morganfield.

Miss Lucile Richardson spent Saturday and Sunday at Elkhorn

Miss Jane Jantzen left Sunday for Garrett where she will attend school.

Jack Anderson left Sunday for Bureau
where he will attend school this fall

Chas. Stile left Saturday for Louisville to work.

Miss Emma Smith had a birthday party Saturday which was largely attended.

Will Roberts was badly bitten by a dog Monday. The dog was fastened in a wire fence, and Mr. Roberts was trying to unfasten him when he bit him.

25 Detective Stories 10c each.
Books on Hypnotism 25c each.
Post Cards of Cloverport and Tar Springs, 2 for 5c.
Post Card Albums, 25c each.
Shawl Straps, 5c and 10c each.

Mail Orders Promptly Filled.

FOR ALL KINDS OF

Foundry,

Machine,

Boiler,

Electrical,

Gasoline Boat,

Tin and Galvanized Work,

Plumbers, Mill,

Boat and Tin-

ners Supplies

Come To The

Cloverport Foundry &

Machine Co.

Prices Reasonable. Satisfaction Guaranteed. Correspondence Solicited.

A BIG Horse

Will be Held at

Ekron, Ky.

Saturday
Oct. 12, '07.

On the above date, in the town of Ekron,
Ky., on the L. H. & St. L. R. R., forty miles below Louisville, the Ekron Commercial and Live Stock Association will hold their second horse and stock sale for the benefit of farmers having stock to sell.

This sale will be conducted as follows:
Every horse put up for sale shall have a price put on him and no by-bidding will be allowed. If no one offers the price the horse will be taken out of the ring.

All kinds of stock entered in the sale. Bring your stock if you want to get top prices, as a number of the best stock buyers in the state will be present to purchase your stock.

For further information call on or address

R. A. ENSOR, President.
S. H. STITH, Secretary.
A. C. CROUCH, Treasurer.

DUKES.

The sick are improving.

Horner Tindle is teaching school at Happy Holler.

Preaching next Sunday here at the Presbyterian church.

Wm. Grey and wife are attending the fair at Owensboro.

Mr. Frankie Cahal spent Thursday with his mother, Mrs. L. Newbury.

Charles Johnson is clerking for C. A.
Cahal while Mr. Cahal is out assessing.

Cleo Rearden and family visited relatives at Weber Saturday and Sunday.

A large crowd attended the pie supper at Miss Lizzie Nix's Saturday night.

Miss Viola Moore and Sam Doyal, of Hawesville, visited Miss Flora Newbury Sunday.

P. O. Burnett, of Patesville, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Burnett.

Newbury, wife and grandson spent Sunday with their daughter, Mrs. S.
Powers, near Patesville.

Misses Tula and Elsie Lamb, of Patesville, spent Sunday with Misses Pearl and Carrie Basham.

School opened here Monday with large attendance. Misses Jessie Wheatley and Pearl Johnson are the teachers.

Mrs. Lillie Cabal and children spent several days last week with Mrs.
Cabal's mother, Mrs. Henderson Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jarboe, of Patesville, spent Sunday the guests of Mrs.
Cabal's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Corley.

A humane appeal.

A humane citizen of Richmond, Ind.,
Mr. U. D. Williams, 107 West Main St., says: "I appeal to all persons with weak lungs to take Dr. King's New Discover, the only remedy that has helped me and fully comes up to the proprietor's recommendation. It saves more lives than all other throat and lung remedies put together. Used as a cough and cold cure the world over. Cures asthma, bronchitis, croup whooping cough, quinsy, hoarseness, and phthisis, stops hemorrhages of the lungs and builds them up. Guaranteed by Severs Drug Co. 80c."

MILT MILLER, S. B. C.

A HEARTY WELCOME

The Given Gov. Beckham on the Occasion of His Columbia Speech.

Regardless of Parties, the People of Adair and Surrounding Counties Honor Their Governor.

The Tribute to the People of the Mountains Was Especially Pleading to His Masters.

Columbia, Ky., Sept. 9.—Before an audience of several thousand people representative of this immediate section of the state, Governor Beckham this afternoon made his first speech in the Democratic state campaign. Feeling honored by a visit from the governor of the commonwealth, the people of Adair and the surrounding counties, regardless of politics, gave him a very hearty welcome. His speech was vigorous from the beginning to the close, and was well received. His tribute to the people of the mountains was especially pleading to his hearers. He declared during the course of his remarks, that he would be glad to see the governor's chair on the expiration of his term, and asked that God and the patriotic citizenship of Kentucky grant him his successor he Judge S. W. Hager, "who stands firmly and without equivocation upon every issue, and who will give to the people a wise and economical administration of their affairs." The governor spoke as follows:

You will readily agree with me that it is better to judge of what a man will do by what he has done in the past than by what he may do in the future; and that we can better forecast what a party will do in the future by its record in the past than by the promises of its platform and of its candidates. If a man convicted of perjury or false swearing makes a statement or a promise we may well be justified in regarding it with suspicion and guard with him and disregard what ever he says, if a party which has come before you in the past making fair promises and uttering serious charges against its opponents, and when given power by you has violated those promises and signed treaties to make good such promises, consider making the same promises and charges it is well to look upon it with doubt and fear before again giving it a chance to betray you.

Let us see in what attitude each of these two political parties stands before you in this occasion, in the light of its past record, its promises and its performances. By that test alone it is fair to judge between the two, and by that test, speaking for my party, I say that the people of Kentucky pass judgment in the same way.

Why the Republican Party Promised.

In 1890 the Republican party placed at the head of its ticket as candidate for governor Hon. W. O. Bradley, then, as now, the dominant and controlling force in his party in this state, in their platform and in the speeches of their candidates they made the most extensive and fulsome promises of what they would do if elected to the offices. They promised the moral, political and industrial regeneration of Kentucky. They promised a new era in the state's progress and development, and with the slogan "Give us a look at the books" they made their campaign. Democratic leaders refuted these charges and warned the people that it would be disastrous to place the Republican party in control in this state or in any Southern state. It believed in force and fraud and in the subordination of the civil to the military power. But in vain were the charges denied and these warnings uttered. Many people were deceived and misled. Suspicions were created in the minds of many good people that good men were being used in the management and corruption in the Democratic administration. Unfortunate dissensions arose in the Democratic party, and the Republican ticket with a Republican legislature was elected—the first time in history that it had been so. In November of 1890 and January, 1891, there came into possession of the state government and for over four years held it.

Wharain Republican Administration Failed.

In that dark and fateful period what a record was made! For incapacity, mismanagement and baseness it has never been equaled in this state. Their campaign cry for "look at the books" was answered and for over four years they had ample time to look at them. But never were they able to find a single cent of the people's money that they did not appropriate. Not a vestige of fraud or corruption upon the part of the previous Democrats administration could they discover. Their campaign charges were shown to be false and insincere, just as they are now. What did they do toward upholding and advancing the welfare of the state? Nothing whatever but to turn back for at least a generation the deal that marked the progress and development. Every fair-minded Republican will admit that it was the most turbulent period in the commonwealth's history with the exception of the time of the Civil War. You may say, "they promised you, they gave you a state instead of the 'new era' of peace and prosperity, about which they prated so much in the campaign, they established a red carnival of military usurpation and bloodshed." The new administration was soon given the name of the "militia," where the Republican governor called into active service the state militia and placed it in control of the General Assembly of the state, then in session. There was absolutely no necessity for such an arbitrary and unwarranted exercise of power. It was a mere attempt to dominate and the part of one branch of the government to intimidate and control the action of a co-ordinate branch. A member of the General Assembly could not enter the capitol without the permission of a military officer. The whole purpose of it was to force the election of a Republican to the United States senate.

In numerous other instances was the same flagrant use made of the militia, and in the state election of 1899, when W. L. Taylor was elected, the same Republicans, in their desperation, tried to aid in Taylor's election, called into active service state troops in the city of Louisville on election day in order to intimidate and influence the voters. During that entire administration lawlessness and crime were rampant. "Night Riders" and Clay County "Rednecks" called.

Republican leaders now try to reflect upon the Democratic administration by referring to the Breathitt country troubles, and the reports about the "night riders." Let them go back to the time when they were in control and reflect that the most serious trouble in the state was in the hands of some of the counties. Let them read the messages of their governor to the General Assembly to see his lurid pictures of lawlessness and crime at that time. If it was not fair to hold him responsible for the outrages in the Clay county feed and other similar outbreaks, it certainly is not fair to hold a Democratic governor responsible for the Breathitt county and other such troubles. One of the chief reasons for which the Republican government was elected was to get rid of the General Assembly. It was agreed to get more power to stop lawlessness in the state.

Dark Record of 1899-1900 in Kentucky.

Then, in December, 1899, with the use of the military at the polls, fraudulent tissue ballots in many counties, corruption and force in the election, there came into temporary power Taylor and his party. In the executive branch, not far from where he sat, nervously awaiting the fatal sound, there was fired the shot which struck down in mortal agony the man whom he could not defeat in a legal or constitutional way. Almost instantly the General Assembly was held in a constitutional contest before the General Assembly. He filed the state capitol with an armed and desperate mob.

Realizing the hopelessness of his case, he became recalcitrant and determined to hold his position.

In the executive branch, not far from where he sat,

nervously awaiting the fatal sound,

there was fired the shot which struck

down in mortal agony the man whom he could not defeat in a legal or constitutional way. Almost instantly

the General Assembly was held in a

constitutional contest before the General Assembly.

He filed the state capitol with an armed and desperate mob.

Realizing the hopelessness of his case,

he became recalcitrant and determined to hold his position.

In the executive branch, not far from where he sat,

nervously awaiting the fatal sound,

there was fired the shot which struck

down in mortal agony the man whom he could not defeat in a legal or constitutional way. Almost instantly

the General Assembly was held in a

constitutional contest before the General Assembly.

He filed the state capitol with an armed and desperate mob.

Realizing the hopelessness of his case,

he became recalcitrant and determined to hold his position.

In the executive branch, not far from where he sat,

nervously awaiting the fatal sound,

there was fired the shot which struck

down in mortal agony the man whom he could not defeat in a legal or constitutional way. Almost instantly

the General Assembly was held in a

constitutional contest before the General Assembly.

He filed the state capitol with an armed and desperate mob.

Realizing the hopelessness of his case,

he became recalcitrant and determined to hold his position.

In the executive branch, not far from where he sat,

nervously awaiting the fatal sound,

there was fired the shot which struck

down in mortal agony the man whom he could not defeat in a legal or constitutional way. Almost instantly

the General Assembly was held in a

constitutional contest before the General Assembly.

He filed the state capitol with an armed and desperate mob.

Realizing the hopelessness of his case,

he became recalcitrant and determined to hold his position.

In the executive branch, not far from where he sat,

nervously awaiting the fatal sound,

there was fired the shot which struck

down in mortal agony the man whom he could not defeat in a legal or constitutional way. Almost instantly

the General Assembly was held in a

constitutional contest before the General Assembly.

He filed the state capitol with an armed and desperate mob.

Realizing the hopelessness of his case,

he became recalcitrant and determined to hold his position.

In the executive branch, not far from where he sat,

nervously awaiting the fatal sound,

there was fired the shot which struck

down in mortal agony the man whom he could not defeat in a legal or constitutional way. Almost instantly

the General Assembly was held in a

constitutional contest before the General Assembly.

He filed the state capitol with an armed and desperate mob.

Realizing the hopelessness of his case,

he became recalcitrant and determined to hold his position.

In the executive branch, not far from where he sat,

nervously awaiting the fatal sound,

there was fired the shot which struck

down in mortal agony the man whom he could not defeat in a legal or constitutional way. Almost instantly

the General Assembly was held in a

constitutional contest before the General Assembly.

He filed the state capitol with an armed and desperate mob.

Realizing the hopelessness of his case,

he became recalcitrant and determined to hold his position.

In the executive branch, not far from where he sat,

nervously awaiting the fatal sound,

there was fired the shot which struck

down in mortal agony the man whom he could not defeat in a legal or constitutional way. Almost instantly

the General Assembly was held in a

constitutional contest before the General Assembly.

He filed the state capitol with an armed and desperate mob.

Realizing the hopelessness of his case,

he became recalcitrant and determined to hold his position.

In the executive branch, not far from where he sat,

nervously awaiting the fatal sound,

there was fired the shot which struck

down in mortal agony the man whom he could not defeat in a legal or constitutional way. Almost instantly

the General Assembly was held in a

constitutional contest before the General Assembly.

He filed the state capitol with an armed and desperate mob.

Realizing the hopelessness of his case,

he became recalcitrant and determined to hold his position.

In the executive branch, not far from where he sat,

nervously awaiting the fatal sound,

there was fired the shot which struck

down in mortal agony the man whom he could not defeat in a legal or constitutional way. Almost instantly

the General Assembly was held in a

constitutional contest before the General Assembly.

He filed the state capitol with an armed and desperate mob.

Realizing the hopelessness of his case,

he became recalcitrant and determined to hold his position.

In the executive branch, not far from where he sat,

nervously awaiting the fatal sound,

there was fired the shot which struck

down in mortal agony the man whom he could not defeat in a legal or constitutional way. Almost instantly

the General Assembly was held in a

constitutional contest before the General Assembly.

He filed the state capitol with an armed and desperate mob.

Realizing the hopelessness of his case,

he became recalcitrant and determined to hold his position.

In the executive branch, not far from where he sat,

nervously awaiting the fatal sound,

there was fired the shot which struck

down in mortal agony the man whom he could not defeat in a legal or constitutional way. Almost instantly

the General Assembly was held in a

constitutional contest before the General Assembly.

He filed the state capitol with an armed and desperate mob.

Realizing the hopelessness of his case,

he became recalcitrant and determined to hold his position.

In the executive branch, not far from where he sat,

nervously awaiting the fatal sound,

there was fired the shot which struck

down in mortal agony the man whom he could not defeat in a legal or constitutional way. Almost instantly

the General Assembly was held in a

constitutional contest before the General Assembly.

He filed the state capitol with an armed and desperate mob.

Realizing the hopelessness of his case,

he became recalcitrant and determined to hold his position.

In the executive branch, not far from where he sat,

nervously awaiting the fatal sound,

there was fired the shot which struck

down in mortal agony the man whom he could not defeat in a legal or constitutional way. Almost instantly

the General Assembly was held in a

constitutional contest before the General Assembly.

He filed the state capitol with an armed and desperate mob.

Realizing the hopelessness of his case,

he became recalcitrant and determined to hold his position.

In the executive branch, not far from where he sat,

nervously awaiting the fatal sound,

there was fired the shot which struck

down in mortal agony the man whom he could not defeat in a legal or constitutional way. Almost instantly

the General Assembly was held in a

constitutional contest before the General Assembly.

He filed the state capitol with an armed and desperate mob.

Realizing the hopelessness of his case,

he became recalcitrant and determined to hold his position.

In the executive branch, not far from where he sat,

nervously awaiting the fatal sound,

there was fired the shot which struck

down in mortal agony the man whom he could not defeat in a legal or constitutional way. Almost instantly

the General Assembly was held in a

constitutional contest before the General Assembly.

He filed the state capitol with an armed and desperate mob.

Realizing the hopelessness of his case,

he became recalcitrant and determined to hold his position.

In the executive branch, not far from where he sat,

nervously awaiting the fatal sound,

there was fired the shot which struck

down in mortal agony the man whom he could not defeat in a legal or constitutional way. Almost instantly

the General Assembly was held in a

constitutional contest before the General Assembly.

He filed the state capitol with an armed and desperate mob.

Realizing the hopelessness of his case,

he became recalcitrant and determined to hold his position.

In the executive branch, not far from where he sat,

nervously awaiting the fatal sound,

there was fired the shot which struck

down in mortal agony the man whom he could not defeat in a legal or constitutional way. Almost instantly

the General Assembly was held in a

constitutional contest before the General Assembly.

He filed the state capitol with an armed and desperate mob.

Realizing the hopelessness of his case,

he became recalcitrant and determined to hold his position.

In the executive branch, not far from where he sat,

nervously awaiting the fatal sound,

there was fired the shot which struck

down in mortal agony the man whom he could not defeat in a legal or constitutional way. Almost instantly

the General Assembly was held in a

constitutional contest before the General Assembly.

He filed the state capitol with an armed and desperate mob.

Realizing the hopelessness of his case,

he became recalcitrant and determined to hold his position.

In the executive branch, not far from where he sat,

nervously awaiting the fatal sound,

there was fired the shot which struck

down in mortal agony the man whom he could not defeat in a legal or constitutional way. Almost instantly

the General Assembly was held in a

constitutional contest before the General Assembly.

He filed the state capitol with an armed and desperate mob.

Realizing the hopelessness of his case,

he became recalcitrant and determined to hold his position.

In the executive branch, not far from where he sat,

nervously awaiting the fatal sound,

there was fired the shot which struck

down in mortal agony the man whom he could not defeat in a legal or constitutional way. Almost instantly

the General Assembly was held in a

constitutional contest before the General Assembly.

He filed the state capitol with an armed and desperate mob.

Realizing the hopelessness of his case,

he became recalcitrant and determined to hold his position.

In the executive branch, not far from where he sat,

nervously awaiting the fatal sound,

there was fired the shot which struck

down in mortal agony the man whom he could not defeat in a legal or constitutional way. Almost instantly

the General Assembly was held in a

constitutional contest before the General Assembly.

He filed the state capitol with an armed and desperate mob.

Realizing the hopelessness of his case,

he became recalcitrant and determined to hold his position.

BIG SPRING.

Jack Collins was in Brandenburg last Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Meyer were in Louisville last week.

Miss Payne, of Stilthton, opened school here Monday.

Leonard Sells was in Louvillville from Sunday until Tuesday.

Bern, the wife of James Humphrey, on the 10th, a daughter.

Chas. Morris came down from Louisville Friday and remained until Sunday.

Dr. Achilles Moorman and son, Raymond, attended the colt show at Newellville.

Rev. McConnell preached his last sermon here last Sunday for this conference year.

Mrs. Willie Bee Hyatt and little daughter, are here visiting Mr. and Mrs. Foster Lyons.

Mrs. Fuller Nall, of Elizabethtown, was the guest of her aunt, Mrs. John H. Meador, last week.

Achilles Moorman attended the fair at Hardinsburg, and visited his sister at Cloverport before returning home.

Miss Zelma Strother in Hodgenville attending the fair, and visiting Mr. and Mrs. Larue and relatives.

Miss Ollie Mae Clarkson has returned home from a month's visit to Miss Laura Baker at Hendersonville, N. C.

Dr. Strother and wife, Rev. Clarkson, and John H. Meador, attended the fair at Hardinsburg, and reported a fine fair.

Mr. John H. Meador and daughter, Miss Leah, have returned from a visit to her daughter, Mrs. T. C. Williams, of West Point.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Larue, of Hodgenville, were the guests of Dr. Strother as they went and returned from the Hardinsburg fair.

Shelby Best accidentally shot himself Thursday with a shotgun, the load taking effect in his lower limb. He is getting along nicely.

A. B. Suter, of Custer, is quite a frequent visitor to our town, and Madam Rumor has it that he will have an assistant cashier in his bank.

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Meador went to Louisville Monday. John returned Wednesday, but Mrs. Meador and children will remain with their parents until after the State fair.

Occasional headache, belching, bad taste in the mouth, lack of appetite and slight nervousness are symptoms of indigestion which, when allowed to go uncared for, will develop into a case of dyspepsia that will take a long time to get rid of. Don't neglect your stomach. At the first indication of trouble take something that will help it along in its work of digesting the food you eat. Kodol for Indigestion and Dyspepsia will do this. Kodol will make your food do you good and will enable you to enjoy what you eat. Sold by all druggists.

RAYMOND.

Rev. L. C. Alabright filled Rev. English's place here Sunday.

Miss Bettie Mercer left last week for Louisville where she will be employed all winter.

Grover Squires, of Owensboro, spent several days of last week with Lawrence Chappell.

Mrs. Gus Shackett, (Nee Miss Native Nelson) of Atchison, Kansas, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Leon Cashman.

After spending several weeks in Indiana, Miss Ebbie Cashman returned to her home last Thursday. While gone Miss Ebbie visited her sisters, Mrs. R. W. James, of Centerpoint, Mrs. Collins Shewsbury, Berne, and her brother, Edisha, of Phenix.

MAYOR OF SUNBURY Says Pe-ruru-na Is A Good Medicine.

Hon. G. C. Brooks, Mayor of Sunbury, Ohio, also Attorney for Farmers' Bank and Sunbury Banking and Loan Co., writes:

"I have the utmost confidence in the virtues of Pe-ruru-na. It is a great medicine. I have had it and I have known many of my friends who have obtained beneficial results from its use. I cannot praise Peruru-na too highly."

HON. G. C. BROOKS.

TICKLE are a host of petty ailments which are the direct result of the weather.

This is more true of the excessive heat of summer and the intense cold of winter, but is partly true of all seasons of the year.

Whether it be a cold or a cough, scratch of the head or bowel complaint, whether the liver be affected or the kidneys, the cause is very liable to be the same.

The weather slightly deranges the mucous membranes of the organs and the result is often a continual disease.

Peruru-na has become a standby in thousands of homes for minor ailments at this.

TOBINSORT.

Frank Sanders went to Cannetton Thursday.

Henry Winchell, of Louisville, is here this week.

Mrs. Verna Ryan, was in Cannetton a few days this week.

Mrs. Eli Leaf, of Moweaqua, Ill., is visiting relatives here.

Jack Allen went to Tell City Monday to work for John Rathman.

Hal Weatherholt has sold his farm to his brother, Dave, for $5,500.

Will Anspach, of Rome, was the guest of Miss Nina Weatherholt Sunday.

Elmer Avery is home from Terre Haute, where he has been working.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Wheeler, of Vincennes, Ind., are visiting her mother here.

Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Weatherholt and son, Homer, of Owensboro, are visiting relatives here.

Phil Winchell, wife and baby, of Jonesboro, Ark., are visiting his father, Rev. J. F. Winchell.

Mrs. Florence Goodwin and son, Herbert, of Charleston, Mo., are visiting friends here.

Mrs. Joshua Groves, of Rome, and Mrs. Miller, of Corydon, visited at Capt. Weatherholt a few days this week.

Sick Headache.

This disease is caused by a derangement of the stomach. Take a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets to correct this disorder and the headache will disappear. For sale by Severs Drug Co.

HARNED.

Our school at this place is well attended.

The heaviest hall storm that has been known in this part of the country for many years, visited us Saturday afternoon and did considerable damage to tobacco.

The Misses Moorman, of Big Springs are visiting their aunt, Mrs. Ethel Moorman.

Willis Payne is in a serious condition. Milton Davis and family went to Hardinsburg Saturday.

Arthur Goodman, of Fordsville, was in town Sunday.

Hunter Henninger, of West View, was in town Saturday.

Miss Ethel Moorman entertained Friday night in honor of her guests, the Misses Moorman, of Big Springs.

N. C. Webster, went to Hardinsburg Saturday on business.

Born, to the wife of Mr. Sam Tucker Sunday September 7, a girl.

W. R. Sande went to Louisville Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Albie Weatherford and little daughter, of Ohio county, are visiting their parents of this place.

Overton Basham and family, of near Hardinsburg, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elijah Basham, near this place, Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Payne and children of Jeffersonville, Ind., are visiting his parents, at this place.

Arthur Hughes, of Kingswood, was in town Monday.

Mrs. Essie Wroe, of Mattoon, Ill., arrived here Saturday evening to the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Tucker for a few days.

Miss Hattie Kirby, of Texas, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Payne, at this place.

Rev. Green Cundiff filed his regular appointment at Ephesus Sunday afternoon.

FOR A Sprained Ankle.

A sprained ankle may be cured in about one-third the time usually required, by applying Chamberlain's Pain Pillar, easily, and giving it absolute rest. For sale by Severs Drug Co.

GLENDENEANE.

There is lots of tobacco being cut this week.

Eliot Moorman has been visiting at Leitchfield this week.

E. L. Robertson shipped a car load of fine hogs this week.

E. L. Robertson is doing prison to the hogs he has on hand.

Frank Claycock, of Irvington, was here last week on business.

Miss Ray Heyser, of Cloverport, is visiting Miss Ned Moorman this week.

Mrs. J. B. Mattingly is spending a few days at Whiteside, this week with her sister, Mrs. Hayes.

Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Weatherholt and son, Homer, of Owensboro, are visiting relatives here.

There are a great many people who have slight attacks of indigestion and dyspepsia nearly all the time. Their food may satisfy the appetite but it fails to nourish the body simply because the stomach is not in fit condition to do the work it is supposed to do. It can't digest the food you eat. The stomach is not strong enough to help you digest something that will do the work your stomach can't do. Kodol for Indigestion and Dyspepsia, a combination of natural digestants and vegetable acids, digests the food itself and gives strength and health to the stomach. Pleasant to take. Sold by all druggists.

SICK HEADACHE.

This disease is caused by a derangement of the stomach. Take a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets to correct this disorder and the headache will disappear. For sale by Severs Drug Co.

THE TEXAS WONDER.

GARRETT.

Dr. Smith and wife spent Sunday with their parents in Eouisville.

Miss Hattie Redman, who has typhoid fever is much improved.

Mr. and Mrs. Matt Scifres spent Wednesday with J. J. Scifres and family.

Miss Luella Miles and brother, John are visiting friends and relatives in Louisville.

Several from here attended the picnic at Flaherty Saturday and reported a delightful time.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Ritchie and children spent one day last week with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents in Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scifres and children spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents